

AIO Cookies Policy

Introduction

At AIO, we are committed to respecting your privacy and ensuring that your personal data is protected. This Cookies Policy explains how we use cookies and similar tracking technologies on our website in compliance with the General Data Protection Regulation.

What are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your device when you visit a website. They allow the website to recognize your device and store information about your preferences or actions over time. Cookies can improve your browsing experience by remembering your settings, enabling you to navigate between pages efficiently, and providing you with personalized content.

Types of Cookies We Use

1. Strictly Necessary Cookies: These cookies are essential for the operation of our website. They enable you to navigate the site and use its features, such as accessing secure areas. Without these cookies, certain services you have requested, such as logging in or making purchases, cannot be provided.
2. Performance Cookies: These cookies collect information about how visitors use our website, such as which pages are visited most often. This data helps us understand how users interact with our site and improve its performance. All information collected by these cookies is aggregated and therefore anonymous.
3. Functionality Cookies: These cookies allow our website to remember choices you make, such as your username, language, or region, and provide enhanced, more personalized features. They can also be used to remember changes you have made to text size, fonts, and other customizable parts of the website. The information these cookies collect may be anonymized, and they cannot track your browsing activity on other websites.
4. Targeting/Advertising Cookies: These cookies are used to deliver content that is more relevant to you and your interests. They may be used to deliver targeted advertisements or to limit the number of times you see an ad. They also help us measure the effectiveness of our advertising campaigns. These cookies remember that you have visited our website and may share this information with third parties, such as advertisers.

How We Use Cookies

We use cookies to:

1. Ensure our website functions correctly and efficiently.
2. Enhance your user experience by remembering your preferences.
3. Collect data on how our website is used to improve its performance and content.
4. Deliver relevant advertisements and measure the effectiveness of our marketing efforts.

Your Consent and Managing Cookies

In compliance with GDPR, we require your consent to place non-essential cookies on your device. When you first visit our website, you will see a cookie banner that asks for your consent to use cookies. You can manage your cookie preferences at any time through our Cookie Settings, which can be accessed via the link in the footer of our website.

You can also control cookies through your browser settings, where you can block or delete cookies. Please note that disabling certain types of cookies may affect your ability to use some features of our website.

Third-Party Cookies

Some cookies on our website are placed by third parties, such as analytics and advertising partners. These third parties may use cookies to collect information about your online activities across different websites. We do not have control over these cookies, and you should refer to the privacy policies of these third parties for more information.

Data Protection and Privacy

Any personal data collected through cookies will be processed in accordance with our Privacy Policy, which outlines how we collect, use, and protect your information. We only retain the data collected by cookies for as long as necessary to fulfill the purposes outlined in this policy.

How to turn off cookies

If you do not want to accept cookies, you can change your browser settings so that cookies are not accepted. If you do this, please be aware that you may lose some of the functionality of this Website.

You can choose to opt out of this type of cookies permanently by going to <http://www.networkadvertising.org/choices> .

Please note, that if you delete your cookies after having opted out, we will no longer know that you have opted out, so the banners from our third party service providers will reappear when you visit other selected websites (see below).

We currently do not support any 'Do Not Track' browser settings. This is because no common Internet Standard has been developed to specify what 'Do Not Track' entails. .

Updates to This Cookies Policy

We may update this Cookies Policy from time to time to reflect changes in technology, legislation, or our business practices. Any updates will be posted on this page, and we encourage you to review this policy periodically.
